the Catholic Summer School.

Pedication of St. Stephen's Parochial School at Hazelwood.

TOPICS TOUCHED UPON BY PASTORS

Rev. Morgan M. Sheedy returned to his pastorate at the Church of the Holy Name in the First ward yesterday. He has just concluded an extended tour of the Catholic educational centers in the country. It has been but recently that the promoters of edsention in the Catholic Church conceived a plan of extending Catholic education in this country. This plan has met with success in what is known as the Catholic Summer School. This school closed its first session on Friday last, and the honor of President

In speaking yesterday afternoon of the future of this great school, Father Sheedy said: "I have no hesitancy in saying that it is the most gigantic and extensive movement that was ever started among the Catholic educational institutions of this country. Upon its floor, meeting upon a common level, we are to have the clergy, secular and religious orders, teachers of the public and parochial schools, and the laity in general. We have located it in New England, just at present, a district that is alive with an intensely religious spirit. The city of New London is a lovely place, famous for its historic memories and literary associations. The summer school may be termed a plan of

There are three phases to this school erate. There is the intellectual, recreative and social phases.

The people of New London are of the best possible class to mingle with in the world. The great number of visitors in their city could not be accommodated other than by taking us into their homes and showing us the utmost hospitality. We were among the old Puritan stock in New London, and they welcomed us as if we were brothers in religion. You may know how old they are in their customs when I tell you they still prerected us in a very strong and interesting

As to the permanent site for the summer "As to the permanent site for the summer school, we have not yet agreed upon it. There have been perhaps 50 proposals, but only four places met with favor by the board. From among them a permanent site will be chosen. They are the Thousand Islands on the St. Lawrence, Lake Champlain, Point Pleasant, N. J., and New London. The New York Central Railroad has offered to purchase any site for us in the Thousand Islands or Lake Champlain if we desire to choose it in either of those places. ase us a site in that city if we want it,

"It is the intention of the summer school nd the possibility is that there will soon be ne in Pittsburg. The school is intended to have national scope. The spontaneous de-mand for a school of this kind met with hearty approval from the dignitaries of the hatholic Caurch of the United States. Means of practical information are to be found on every hand in Pittsburg. From the immense iron industries, and the turning of their mighty wheels, the scientific student may glean knowledge. During the time the summer school would be in session the parks and drives would look the pleasantest. Then to the philosophic layman there would be apportunity to feel the pulse of a great city, with its variety of interests, its intellectual and physical progress. The rate of fees for the great summer school is very low. When a permanent site is chosen very low. When a permanent site is chosen the local assemblies will be formed."

Communion With Human Beings.

Rev. E. R. Donehoo, pastor of the Eighth Presbyterian Church, preached yesterday from the text: "Are they not all minister,

Consider whether we apply in to our friends who come to our relief in time to our friends who come to our relief in time of trouble or to our loved ones, who have entered into the heavenly state, or to those celestial visitants which are sent to comfort and sustain, to guide and cheer us. While the text undoubtedly refers to those angelic beings, which have never tasted of human sorrow and human sin, it does not yet preclude the thought that our own flesh and blood may prove such to us, nor that the disembodied ove such to us, nor that the disembodied spirits of our dear ones are permitted to minister to our peace and welfare. We all realize that a fracad who has passed through forrow is best fitted to minister to us in imes of trouble, and it seems only natural hat the Heavenly Father should send our riends from the other world to soothe, er and counsel us in time of need. While it is a fact that angels have never

When Eijah lay exhausted under a juniper tree after his long flight from Ahab, an angel touched him and said: 'Arise and cat, and on the strength of that food he travaled on for 40 days.

"What angels have done in the past in the way of sympathy, help and deliverance, they are doing to-day. Let us accept their kindly offices, and so live that when we have laid side these garments of dust, we may become ministering spirits to our fellow men, who are struggling upward toward the same blessed realization of our hopes."

LESSONS OF LIFE.

The Layman, as Well as the Preacher, Must Be n Teacher.

Rev. T. N. Eaton, D. D., of Oakland M. E. Caurch, had for the subject of his discourse at yesterday morning's service "Apt to Teach." "Life," said be, "is full of meaning which is to be realized only by carnest, thoughtful, serious religious endeavors on our part. This ile is the beginning of an endless life which has for its possession all routs, all being and all possibilities of this allimitable universe.

stand. The Christian in the ranks is fairly chargeable with every form of duty that falls to the lot of the minister. The layman, as well as the preacher, should be a teacher. We must see trush plainly if we want to communicate it. It is a weakness of human nature to deal with unimportant truths.

"If the thought of God's goodness has really taken possession of a man I will trust him to teach though he see nothing else clearly. Natrowness does not come so much from having a single idea in mind as it does from having a partial perception of the truth. In order to be apt in teaching a man must have faith in the truth. In order to be a teacher a man must have real joy in the communication of the truth."

DEDICATED A SCHOOL,

Solemn Ceremontes at St. Stephen's, Hazelwood - Father Cochran Fears the Wor'd Is Getting Worse-A Handsome Building, With the Latest Appliance for Educating.

enne, Hazelwood, was dedicated yesterday atternoon, with appropriate ceremonies. About 300 people were present. The following priests took part in the ceremonies: Father D. J. Devlin, of St. Stephen's Church: Father Cochran, of St. Agnes Church, Soho; Father Gallager, St. John's Church, Southside: Father Devlin, Holy Cross Church: Father Schram, of St. George Church, Allentown: Father Ignatius, of the Carmelite Order, and Father Bullion, of St. Magdaline Church. The school was blessed by Father Gallager, and the choir followed by singing Millard's "Veni Creator." The young men formed in line and marched to the church, where the choir sang the "Deri Tries."

Father Cochmin delivered the dedicatory sermon. He spoke at length on the good derived from schools where the young were taught the knowledge of God and learned to fear Him. He said: "It is sorrowful to see the Almighty neglected so muen, especially among the young men nowadays. They are fast lorgetting God. The world is getting worse every day. This generation is far worse than the one preceding it, and the next will still be worse. Men are fast losing that sense of honesty and honor. The best remedy for this is the building and fostering of schools where the young can not only be taught business principles but gain knowledge and fear God."

The building is a three-story brick and contains eight large rooms. The whole building is furnished with the latest improved school appliances. The ventilation system is one of its beautiful features. The rooms are all large and have high ceilings. The interior of the building was erected at a cost of several thousand dollars.

HOW TO OBTAIN WISDOM.

Practical Lessons on This Subject Takes

From the Scriptures, Rev. S. W. Davis, pastor of the Walton Methodist Episcopal Church, Southside, preached yesterday on "How to Obtain Wisdom" and took his text from James Wisdom" and took his text from James i: 5, "If any man lack wisdom let him ask of God, who giveth to all men liberally."

Rev. Mr. Davis in the course of his sermon said: "Men feel their need of wisdom, when burdened with great responsibility. An attorney appears in defense of his client, innocent of the crime charged against him. Circumstantial evidence points to his guilt, winnesses appear against him, accusation must be shown to be without a just foundation. And he must obtain a verdict of acquittal. The surgeon, when he undertakes a critical operation: the minister, as he presents the message from God to dving men, and all these need wisdom in their respective work. need wisdom in their respective work.

The inestimable value of wisdom is see The inestimable value of wisdom is seen from the Scriptures, which declare that it cannot be getten for gold, neither shall silver be weighed as the price thereof. Wisdom saves us from trouble by leading us to avoid it. Should we be necessarily involved it will show us the way out or make it minister to our welfare. Wisdom is the gift of God. We must ask in taith and be submissive to the Divine will and we shall receive it. The answer may reach us by the word or providence of God, or directly by the Holy Spirit, Wisdom may be tested. If from above it is "first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easy to be entreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without partiality and without hypocrisy."

Lester Davish Makes His Escape by Slipping His Handcuffs-Caught in Pittsburg-Wanted at Lancaster-Deputies Dilemms-Taken Back for Trial.

Sheriff Sides, of Lancaster, arrived in this city yesterday morning and returned home last evening with Lester Davish in custody. Davish is the young man arrested in this city a few days ago as a fugitive from justice. He is wanted for escaping from a deputy sheriff. When first captured he denied his identity, giving his residence as Latrobe and another name instead of his

His last scrape was the larceny of a watch and other jewelry from a Lancaster man. It was not long until he was apprehended and lodged in the county jail for court trisl. The jail is about a mile distant from the Court House. Last Monday, as a couple of deputy sheriffs were escorting seven or eight prisoners from the jail for trial, Davish slipped the manaeles and made a dash for liberty.

The deputies could not pursue, having to watch the other prisoners, and before the Davish is a determined looking criminal, of slight, supple build and a hand as small and soft as a woman's. Owing to this characteristic he has been able to escape by slipping the handcuffs from his wrists several times. Sheriff Sides put a pair on him yesterday which were probably too tight for comfort, but Davish will hardly succeed in slipping

A Theatrical Company Runs Up Against

Fear of the Law and Order Society' vengeance placed a number of theatrical men in an unpleasant dilemma yesterday. Two carloads of "The Struggle for Life" secency, which appears at the Bijou this week, went astray, reaching this city yesterday morning. As it takes 18 hours to put the scenery in place, Manager McKenzie, of the company wanted it hauled from the of the company, wanted it hauled from the depot to the theater. He sent for Pittsburg Transfer Company wagons, but not a wheel would move. The company paid $600 would move. The company paid 2000 in penalties about a vear ago for hauling scenery on Sunday. Manager Gulick, of the Bijou, suggested getting a permit from Mayor Gourley and Chier Brown, when he remembered that the L. & O. men were working under a State law of 1764, which, while it probably filled a long-felt want at that time, failed to foreses the wonderful growth and progress of the Commonwealth.

There was but one thing to do—to wait for Monday, and at 12:01 this morning wagons and men commenced the work of removing the scenery to the theater.
